

NURSING HOME EXTENSION

In collaboration with Feddersen Architects, Switzerland 2013

The expansion design is developed from continuing the characteristic style of the existing building. It also complements and strengthens the existing, either by including the hillside or its integration of the ensemble to the urban context.

The link between old and new buildings is divided by a horizontally oriented façade of wood slats, in doing so emphasizes the new entrance situation. This modified facade is visible also in the interior: Wooden wall paneling emphasize the link between old and new buildings.
